1 Consenting Relationships

- 2 Effective: Moved to Policy Library from UPM 3.1(12)
- 3 Updated/Revised: October 14, 2024
- 4 Contact: Office of the Senior Vice President and Provost, University Human Resources, Graduate
- 5 College

6 Introduction

- 7 Consenting relationships that are of concern to Iowa State University are those romantic, sexual, or
- 8 intimate relationships in which both parties appear to have consented, but where there is a reporting or
- 9 evaluative relationship between the two parties, creating a power differential.

10 Policy Statement

11 Consenting relationships between individuals of unequal power are inappropriate and may be contrary

12 to professional ethics. Such a relationship may impair the ability to objectively evaluate the 13 performance of the individual being evaluated. All covered employees who currently or previously

- 14 were engaged in a consenting relationship that now creates a situation of a power differential, are
- 15 required to declare such a relationship to their supervisor as early as possible. The supervisor will work
- 16 with their college/department/unit administration, along with seeking assistance from the Office of
- 17 Senior Vice President and Provost, University Human Resources, and Graduate College, as needed and
- 18 appropriate, to develop actions to manage the conflict of interest.
- 19 In the case of an instructor and student, for example, the respect and trust accorded the instructor by
- 20 the student, as well as the power exercised by the instructor in giving grades, thesis advice,
- evaluations, recommendations for further study and future employment, may greatly diminish the
- student's actual freedom of choice concerning a romantic or sexual relationship. Similarly, supervisors
- are in positions of assigning and evaluating the work of employees who report to them, and senior
- colleagues often provide advice and support to junior colleagues and are involved in decisions
- concerning promotion and tenure, course and committee assignments, and salary increases.
- 26 Because of these reporting and evaluative relationships and the power differential inherent in such
- relationships, it is very difficult to defend against a subsequent charge of sexual harassment on the
- 28 grounds of mutual consent. Covered employees, by virtue of their positions, bear a special burden of
- 29 accountability if claims of sexual harassment arise.

30 Definitions

- Covered Employee: Current Faculty (Tenured, Tenure-Track, or Term), Professional and Scientific (P&S), Merit, Contract, Post Doc/Trainee, Temporary, and Hourly Student Employees.
- Consenting Relationship: Any current voluntary relationship, which is romantic, physically intimate, and/or sexual in nature, and to which the parties consent.
- Instructor: An instructor is an individual who serves in instructional roles in relation to students,
- 36 including, but not limited to, academic instruction, advising, direct or indirect evaluation of a student's
- 37 work, research collaboration or assistantships, and athletic coaching.

- Student: An individual enrolled in or auditing courses at the university, including undergraduate and
- 39 graduate students.
- 40 Power Differential: A power differential exists when one individual has control and advantage over 41 another individual.

42 Resources

43 Links

- Consenting Relationships Procedures and Guidance
- 45 Consenting Relationships FAQ
- 46 Non-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment Policy
- 47 Faculty Handbook 7.2.2.1.1.
- 48 Conflicts of Interest and Commitment Policy
- 49 Iowa Board of Regents, Board Policy Manual Section 2.1(4)(H)